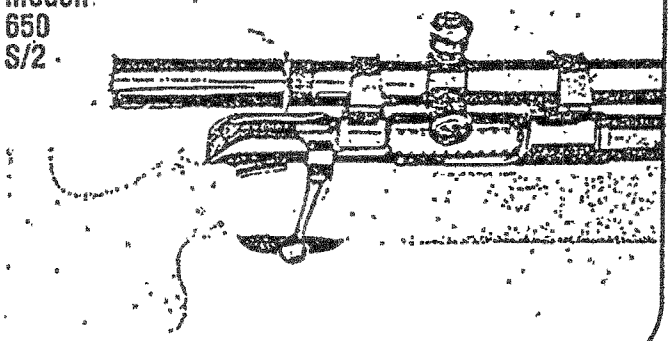
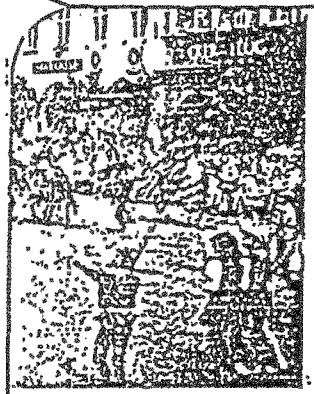
Krico-Benchrest-Büchse Modell 650 S/2



In diesem Bericht stellt unser Mitarbeiter Günter Frères eine deutsche Benchrest-Büchse vor. Weiter behandelt er alle wesentlichen Fakten, die für die Präzision bei dieser Schießdisziplin wichtig sind. Seinen Testbericht finden Sie auf den Seiten 1288–1294 dieser Ausgabe.



Die Landshuter Hochzeit 1475

Die Landshuter Hochzeit von 1475 war ein hochpolitisches Ereignis, zu dem die mächtigsten Fürsten des Reiches kamen. Zu den gesellschaftlichen Veranstaltungen anläßlich dieser Hochzeit gehörte auch ein großes Ritterturnier. In Landshut vollzieht man in unseren Tagen die ganzen Festlichkeiten der Renaissance nach. Über das Ritterturnier berichten wir auf den Seiten 1224–1227

Elf Nationen beteiligten sich an den von der Internationalen Armbrust-Union (IAU) vom 12. bis 19. Juli in dem Schweizer Höhenluftkurort Arosa durchgeführten 2. Weltmeisterschaften. Trotz der nicht immer idealen Wetterverhältnisse wurden vier Weltrekorde auf- und drei eingestellt. Der Deutsche Schützenbund stellte die überragende Mannschaft, die sechs der insgesamt acht in der Einzel- und Mannschaftswertung zu vergebenden Titel erkämpfte und auch die Nationenwertung klar für sich entscheiden konnte. Unseren Farbbericht darüber finden Sie auf den Seiten 1228–1230

Owner of LOOMPANICS UNLIMITED, [redacted], phone [redacted], was interviewed in October, 1984 by the FBI, in an effort to identify and locate a possible subscriber to LOOMPANICS literature, who was of interest in a pending criminal investigative matter. [redacted], who said he was concerned about government intervention into operation of his business, reluctantly advised that in order for an individual to become part of his subscriber list, that person must make a purchase. Merely ordering a catalog would not be enough to place ones name on the subscriber rolls.

[redacted], according to Port Townsend Police, is still the owner and operator of POOMPANICS UNLIMITED. He has violated no local laws through operation of his mail order type book selling business.

ORDERING INSTRUCTIONS

Please Read and Follow Carefully!

We have the finest selection of self-liberation books ever offered for sale. Please follow these ordering instructions carefully, and we will be able to give you the very best in service. Thanks...

General

1. ALL PRICES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE!

2. Due to the increasing number of times we have been getting ripped off, if you pay by personal check, we reserve the right to let your check clear before shipping your books. This may result in a delay of up to 30 (thirty) days. We recommend that you pay by Money Order, in which case your books will be shipped within 2 (two) business days after receipt of your order. Money Orders are available for a nominal fee (usually less than 50¢) at any bank or Post Office, and in many drug stores, supermarkets, convenience stores, etc.

3. Keep a copy of your order.

4. Change of address. If you move and wish to continue receiving our catalogs, please send us both your old and new address.

5. If you know of any good books which are not presently offered in our catalog, please tell us about them. (This is not a "requirement"—it is only encouraged.)

6. Backorders: occasionally we have to backorder a book—our policy is to backorder for only up to two months. If the book hasn't come in during that period, we will write you a refund. If the book comes in after the two month period, we will drop you a postcard so that you can re-order if you would like. If you would prefer not to have anything backordered, please NOTE that on your order, and we will refund any backordered books.

7. Have fun!

UNITED STATES

1. Please use our order form to facilitate handling. Be sure to include the "Order Number" as well as the "Title" of the books on your order form.

2. Please type or print clearly. Give us a break. We cannot be responsible for illegible orders!

3. We do not have costly and time-consuming facilities for billing. PAYMENT IN FULL MUST ACCOMPANY ALL ORDERS. We do not take credit cards, either.

4. Washington residents, add 7.8% Sales Tax.

5. Shipping and Insurance is a flat fee of $3.00 (for your whole order—not $3.00 per book.)

6. Method of delivery: We offer guaranteed delivery. We will ship via United Parcel Service (except for Alaska and most of Hawaii)—if you give us a street address (UPS cannot deliver to a PO Box or General Delivery). United Parcel Service is a private carrier, much faster and safer than the US Snail. We recommend using this method of delivery. If you do not furnish us with a street address to ship to (or if you request) we will ship your order via the US Post Office—Insured Book Rate. There is presently no UPS to Alaska and most of Hawaii, so orders to these places will be shipped by Insured Book Rate mail.

7. RETURNED PACKAGES: If we get your package back because of these reasons (1) your address was illegible; (2) your address was wrong; (3) you have moved since your order was placed; or (4) not known at that address; you will have to pay a reshipment charge of $2.00 before your books will be sent.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES (INCLUDING CANADA AND MEXICO)

1. Use order form. Include "Order Number" for all books ordered. Type or print legibly. Payment in full must accompany all orders.

2. Minimum order of $25.00 required.

3. Shipping, handling and insurance fee is 12% of the amount of your order, plus $3.00.

4. Do not pay in checks drawn on banks outside the United States. Do not pay in checks denominated in foreign currency. Do make payment with International Bank or Postal Money Order, payable at any US bank or Post Office in US dollars.

5. All foreign orders will be shipped by Parcel Post, insured (where insurance is available).

6. If your package is returned to us because of (1) wrong address; (2) illegible address; (3) moved; or (4) no pickup; we will not reship your package until you pay all storage charges, as well as the cost of reshipment.

INVESTIGATION BY THE FBI DETERMINED THAT THE CURRENT OWNER AND OPERATOR OF DESERT PUBLICATIONS IS [redacted], b6 b7C DATE OF BIRTH [redacted]. RECORDS CHECKS WITH LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND A REVIEW OF FBI INDICES REVEALED NO DEROGATORY INFORMATION ABOUT [redacted].

IN A 1992 INTERVIEW BY FBI REPRESENTATIVES, [redacted]

163-56959-5

3-E

NR

EXPLAINED HE OPERATES FOUR COMPANIES, DELTA PRESS LTD, DESERT PUBLICATIONS, EL DORADO OUTPOST, AND DELTA INSIGNIA, WHICH ARE KNOWN AS "DELTA GROUP." EACH OF THESE COMPANIES IS A MAIL ORDER BUSINESS WHICH SOLICITS BUYERS THROUGH CATALOG MAILING. PRODUCTS SOLD BY THESE COMPANIES INCLUDE NUMEROUS VARIETIES OF MILITARY MEMORABILIA, SUCH AS UNIFORM INSIGNIA, MEDALS, AND POSTERS, AS WELL AS MILITARY MANUALS IN THE AREAS OF WARFARE TRAINING AND WEAPONS MAINTENANCE. OTHER PUBLICATIONS AVAILABLE INCLUDE, FOR EXAMPLE, A DIRECTORY OF MILITARY WEAPONS DEALERS, A REGISTRY OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT RADIO FREQUENCIES, AND OTHER ASSORTED SURVIVAL AND WARFARE-ORIENTED BOOKS AND MANUALS. [redacted] ADVISED THAT DELTA GROUP DOES NOT SELL WEAPONS OR WEAPONS PARTS; BUT HE AGREED THAT CONTACTS FOR SUCH ITEMS MIGHT BE LOCATED THROUGH SOME OF THE PUBLICATIONS WHICH HE SELLS.

[redacted] SAID THAT HE MAINTAINS A COMPUTERIZED LIST OF CUSTOMERS. AFTER PURCHASING A PRODUCT, THE CUSTOMERS WILL REMAIN ON THE LIST FOR TWO YEARS, RECEIVING CATALOGS ABOUT FIVE TIMES A YEAR. HE STATED THAT THERE ARE A FEW ORDERS FROM CUSTOMERS ABROAD OR FROM VARIOUS FOREIGN EMBASSIES. [redacted] WOULD NOT PROVIDE FREE ACCESS TO HIS MAILING LIST, BUT SAID HE WOULD READILY SEARCH SPECIFIC NAMES PROVIDED BY THE FBI. IF THE NAMES WERE ON THE LIST, IT WOULD REVEAL THE ADDRESS; DATES OF ORDERS, AND ITEMS ORDERED.

ABOVE DETAILS MAY BE DISSEMINATED TO FRENCH AUTHORITIES.

CONAN the Librarian

By Gina Binole
Sun Staff

There's outrageous. There's off-the wall. Then, of course, there's Conan the Libranan.

That's Conan for short. Michael Hoy, former number massaging, pencil-pushing Poindexter, now anarchist, First Amendment avenger, and publisher, for real.

He's the head honcho of a multi-million-dollar-a-year mail order business, named Loompanics Unlimited that he bills as "the best book catalog in the world."

Forget finding "Hop On Pop" or "The Pelican Brief." Hoy is out to shock. He's into strange. And obviously, onto something with selections like "The Art and Science of Dumpster Diving" (a serious, straightforward, how-to book, he says). Or "Sell Yourself to Science: The Complete Guide to Selling Your Organs, Body Fluids, Bodily Functions and Being a Human Guinea Pig" (wonderfully written, informative and downright helpful, he says)

"I wouldn't have been able to publish books that funny, that outrageous a year or so ago," Hoy notes. "They weren't writing things like that."

But, luckily for him, people have been penning some "strange stuff" for quite a while.

Eleven years ago, the 48-year-old Michigan native packed up the magazine indexing operation he began on his kitchen table and brought an expanded Loompanics to a place on Sherman Street in Port Townsend, where business has boomed.

Surprised? Yeah, I am, actually," Hoy says.

His customers are mainly men. More than 20,000 people in the United States and 1,500 from other countries subscribe to the Loompanics catalog.

So, who wants to learn about things like killing, lock picking and methamphetamine making, anyway?

Some are prisoners or soon-to-be convicts. Others are script writers, institution-bashers and general misfits.

"But it's people essentially like me, mostly," he says. "People that enjoy reading unusual things and have a good sense of humor."

And who is Hoy? Actually, the former Mio, Mich. boy (population 1,000) and mail-order fiend is hardly what you might expect. OK, he's an oddball with a big face and short body, kind of like Mr. Potato Head. That, you could predict.

But the straightforward, slow and serious way with which he talks about his books and his business comes as a complete surprise.

Of the six-volume "How to Kill" set, he says flatly: "That doesn't sell very well anymore. I don't know. I guess our customers learned all they needed or wanted to know."

On the other hand, he has this to say about "How to Meet Women for Men Over 35," a book he can barely keep on the shelves: "That just sells and sells and sells. I don't know if they're going out and trying all this stuff or if it's just wishful thinking."

According to those who know him, such deadpan comments are classic Hoy.

"Whenever I talk to him, I find myself wanting to turn up the speed button on his voice," says John Hoffman, "Dumpster Diving" author and self-described "greedy, egotistical son-of-a-b—who chose this pseudonym for hero Abbie Hoffman."

"Michael's cool. He's quiet. He never loosens up much, just a little."

But Hoy will gab a lot about Loompanics if you let him. These days, he thinks the limelight is not such a bad place to be.

"It began as a hobby. I love to read, especially weird and unusual things. I was into mail order. I decided it would be interesting to see if I could make money at it," he says.

Again, he speaks rather softly and somewhat sheepishly for a man who in the next breath might try and sell you guaranteed drug-free urine collected from students at a girl's Bible school in Texas.

"At first it (Loompanics) was not a financial success. But now it's great. It's really a lot of fun. It's kinda like I get to play all day."

To get to his playing ground, hang a right at the Texaco station on Sherman as you come into town. What you see on the right-hand side of the street is a place so homey, so cozy, that without even trying, it cleverly conceals its contents. Kinda like Hoy himself.

On this day, early in July, there's a dead mouse as big as a circus hot dog on the doorstep, compliments of either Claw or Fang, the company cats, chief mouse boosters and vermin controllers.

Inside, the decor is definitely different. It's like Wayne's World on crack. Fake id's, obnoxious posters and exotic weaponry plaster the walls. Books and magazines litter every possible flat horizontal surface in the building.

A seemingly laid-back, mostly long-haired and likeminded bunch, the nine Loompanics employees busy themselves proofreading, laying out pages, taking inventory and stuffing books into envelopes.

"I keep promising myself I'm going to clean up the place, but I never do," Hoy says as he snakes through several rooms.

He spends much of his time rummaging through strange and little-known magazines for possible books. Of the 600 books, 160 of them are actually published by Loompanics.

He defends the selections, saying, "We sell such a wide variety of stuff. If we sold only six books on how to make and manufacture crack cocaine, that would be a different story."

Each catalog that Loompanics distributes states that the company does not advocate breaking the law and that all titles "are sold for informational purposes only."

Still, books have been confiscated and censored. One, Uncle Fester's "Secrets of Methamphetamine Manufacture" was featured on CBS's 60 Minutes when drug agents raided a home and found a copy of the book inside.

Hoy says he can't be responsible for what people do with the books once they order them.

But Hoffman probably sums up the company and its catalog, which he claims changed his life, even better.

"I really do believe that this catalog serves the purpose it claims. It sets people free," he says.

"This catalog is for the most extreme sort of book lover. It's a catalog for those with the intelligence to handle it. It's not a catalog for stupid people."

Freedom to be wierd

Loompanics sells bizarre books

By Mark Hines
Leader Staff Writer

Drugs, guns, tax evasions, armed robberies, serial killers and home-made bombs...

It sounds like the makings of a drug store detective novel. But instead this is real how-to material, all available in the Loompanics Unlimited mail-order catalog.

Loompanics, a Port Townsend book publisher and distributor, has a reputation for specializing in the unusual, the illegal, the clandestine and the down-right offensive. It's the kind of stuff that makes televangelists roar and politicians shudder.

But Loompanics Editor Steve O'Keefe sees another side to the business. He believes thought-provoking political essays and information geared toward personal empowerment and self-reliancen is really the back-bone of Loompanics. It promotes what O'Keefe calls "practical anarchism." That, he said, is the notion that you don't need to overthrow the government when you can just ignore it.

Mercenary manual

This subversive attitude, along with outrageous mail-order catalogs, gives Loompanics an underground quality. The book selection, true to its reputation, is unusual: "Serial Slaughter", "How To Start Your Own Country", "The Abolition of Work", "Making Crime Pay", "Successful Armed Robbery", "Vigilante Handbook", "Manual of the Mercenary Soldier", "Marijuana Grower's Guide", "Getting Started in the Illicit Drug Business", "The Construction and Operation of Clandestine Drug Laboratories" (by Jack B. Nimble), "Hard-Core Ponching", "How to Make Disposable Silencers", "Righteous Revenge: Getting Down To Getting Even", and "Screw the Bitch: Divorce Tactics for Men", are among the most memorable titles.

The catalog descriptions are equally blunt. Take this one, for example:

"Marrying the wrong person is a serious mistake. Don't make another mistake by letting things get out of hand. "Screw the Bitch: Divorce Tactics for Men" will help you get through a divorce without losing your assets - or your pride."

> "I just love what I do. It's definitely more fun than being an accountant."
> —Michael Hoy, Loompanics publisher

While O'Keefe refuses any attempt to categorize Loompanics customers, he does believe many Loompanics books appeal to the sense of humor and imagination of anyone who enjoys mocking the authority of an oppressive government.

Circulating books on growing marijuana undermines authority and appeals to an element of Americans who think drug laws are tyrannical and stupid, for instance, he said.

"Our holiday supplement will feature several articles extolling the wonderful virtues of the hemp plant that we're forbidden by law to take advantage of," said Loompanics Publisher Michael Hoy, who shares O'Keefe's general contempt for authority.

With an 800-book selection, including 150 exclusive how-to books, Loompanics has gained devoted customers from various walks of life and both sides of the law.

"We have a lot of prisoners on our list," Hoy said. "We have to tear out certain pages."

"We're giving people information so they can do things for themselves," O'Keefe said. "Some of it 's not socially acceptable."

Socially acceptable or not, they get orders from the Central Intelligence Agency, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Justice Department, and the Detroit Police Department, which orders "Body Guarding" in volumes of 50.

Loompanics: Want to s

O'Keefe beams as he remembers filling an order for several copies of a book requested by the C.I.A. It was entitled "Methods of Disguise." He is fascinated by the vague line seperating fantasy from reality; a line obscurred further by Loompanics material.

O'Keefe and Hoy enjoy books that shatter a reader's self-created vision of reality, leaving him or her to pick up the pieces.

Severed head

Hoy is attracted to books that challenge his view of the world, knock him over the head with a new thought, or trip him up in some other fashion.

"Keeping A Severed Head Alive" is a good example of what Hoy looks for in a good manuscript.

"We look for some outrageous subject that is treated dead-pan, how to do it;" Hoy said.

A market for the outrageous definitely exists. While new books start with printings of 1,000 copies or less, Loompanics still grossed more than $1 million last year.

Hoy, formerly an accountant, published his first book in 1975 when he made 500 copies of an index to National Lampoon. He only sold about 65.

"I was trying to figure out some way to make a living without having a job," Hoy said. "I could see it was going to be years before I made money off my own publishing."

That's when Hoy decided to carry books from other publishers. Loompanics' first profitable books Hoy wrote himself, including "Exotic Weapons: An Access Book", and a book on obtaining mail order identification.

"Eventually the government passed laws prohibiting that kind of thing" which killed sales on his I.D. book, Hoy said.

Many of the other books can also be used for illegal purposes. The Loompanics all-time greatest seller, "The Complete Guide to Lock Picking" (by Eddie the Wire), sold about 35,000 copies. Yet Hoy said many locksmiths and other people undoubtedly buy the book without any devious purposes in mind.

> "We're giving people information so they can do things for themselves. Some of it 's not socially acceptable."
> —Steve O'Keefe, Loompanics editor

Filling a void

Besides, he doesn't really care what people do with his books.

He's concerned with filling a void by offering books too unusual to be obtained anywhere else. The mail-order system, in which customers often use fake names, has its advantages as well; it offers customers anonymity.

Not everyone feels comfortable walking into a store and buying books like "Physical Interrogation Techniques", which caused a revolt among Loompanics employees and seven publishers refused to print.

"I didn't realize printers actually read the stuff they print," Hoy said. "It grossed out a lot of people. Somebody is probably having that stuff done to them in Central America somewhere right now."

Hoy views the book as an enlightening peek at the "dark side of law enforcement and politics."

Amnesty International has bought several copies of the book, lending support to Hoy's argument the book could be a deterrent rather than a contributor to human rights abuses.

Boring not allowed

Hoy has never turned down a manuscript because it was too offensive or dangerous. The only thing Hoy won't tolerate is boring material and material that's not factually correct.

Hoy said many people like himself are likely to read how-to books for pleasure, not necessarily intending to act on what they read.

"It's for anyone whose curious, loves books and likes to read strange stuff," Hoy said.

Sitting in his office, petting a large cat named Fang, his collection of exotic weapons suspended on the walls, loads of mail and other debris strewn around him, Hoy seems to be in his natural element.

Hoy, 46, moved to Port Townsend in 1982 from Lansing, Michigan. He describes himself as a libertarian and an anarchist with a small "l" and small "a".

Hoy, from an early age, has enjoyed reading Edgar Allen Poe, as well as westerns and espionage novels. He's an avid reader of anything that's interesting and entertaining.

Like a mischevious child or a clever flasher, he seems to derive pleasure from the outrage his books cause in conservative God-fearing people. He likes the outrage, the freedom and the profit he derives from his unique business. He also enjoys the freedom his business gives him; the freedom to set his own hours and wear what he wants, and the freedom to spend hours reading the piles of mail that flow in.

"I just love what I do," Hoy said. "It's definitely more fun than being an accountant."

It's also more secret. Loompanics keeps its location secret; catalogues are available by sending $5 to P.O. box 1197 in

THE EXPLOSIVES UNIT-BOMB DATA CENTER (EU-BDC), HAS BEEN UNABLE TO FIND ANY INFORMATION ON THE BOOK ENTITLED "HOMEMADE GUNS AND HOMEMADE AMMO" BY RONALD BROWN, EDITED IN 1986 IN THE U.S.A. BY LOOMPANICS UNLIMITED, P.O. BOX 1197, PORT TOWNSEND, WASHINGTON.

HOWEVER, LOOMPANICS UNLIMITED IS KNOWN TO BE A PUBLISHER OF VARIOUS TYPES OF "ALTERNATIVE" PUBLICATIONS DEALING WITH RADICAL TOPICS OR THINGS OUT OF THE MAINSTREAM SUCH AS LOSING ONE'S IDENTITY, AVOIDING TAXES AND GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS, ETC.

THE BOOK ENTITLED, "CIA FIELD EXPEDIENT METHODS FOR EXPLOSIVES," BY STEVEN HAMPTON, DESERT PUBLICATIONS, P.O. BOX 1751, EL DORADO, ARIZONA IS KNOWN TO EU-BDC AND A REVIEW OF THE BOOK SHOWED IT TO BE JUST WHAT IT PURPORTS TO BE. IT CONTAINS FIELD EXPEDIENT METHODS FOR MAKING FOURTEEN DIFFERENT EXPLOSIVE COMPOUNDS THOUGH ALL OF THE METHODOLOGY DISCUSSED HAS DANGEROUS FLAWS AND COULD LEAD TO TRAGEDY FOR A WOULD-BE MANUFACTURER OF SAME. THE BOOK CONTAINS NO CLASSIFIED MATERIAL AND IS READILY AVAILABLE TO THE PUBLIC. THE LABORATORY'S EDITION OF THE BOOK IS WAS PUBLISHED BY DESERT PUBLICATIONS WHEN IT WAS LOCATED IN CORNVILLE, ARIZONA.

THE THIRD BOOK ENTITLED "HOW TO MAKE DISPOSABLE SILENCERS: A COMPLETE GUIDE" BY J. FLORES PUBLICATIONS, P.O. BOX 830131, MIAMI, FLORIDA, IS ALSO KNOWN TO THE EU-BDC AND A REVIEW OF THAT BOOK ALSO SHOWED IT TO BE A WIDELY AVAILABLE BOOK ON HOMEMADE SILENCERS.

AGAIN THIS IS NOT CLASSIFIED OR RESTRICTED MATERIAL AND J. FLORES, LIKE DESERT PUBLICATIONS, IS A PUBLISHER OF VARIOUS "ALTERNATIVE" OR "UNDERGROUND" TITLES DEALING WITH TAX EVASION, CHANGING IDENTITY, WEAPONS MANUFACTURING AND THE LIKE.

THE EU-BDC COPY OF J. FLORES' BOOK IS A 1984 EDITION PUBLISHED WHEN J. FLORES WAS AT P.O. BOX 14, ROSEMEAD, CALIFORNIA.

AS MENTIONED IN REFERENCED ~~TELETYPE~~ THESE ITEMS ARE POSSIBLY OF INTEREST TO TERRORISTS OR EXTREMISTS, BUT, AS ALL ARE IN THE PUBLIC DOMAIN OF THE U.S., POSSESSION OF SUCH ITEMS CONSTITUTE NO VIOLATION OF LAW IN THE U.S.

(U) LEGAT PARIS ADVISED THE [ ] THAT LITERATURE WHICH DEALS WITH MEDIA RELATIONS MAY BE OF INTEREST TO TERRORISTS BUT IS ALSO OF BROAD GENERAL INTEREST, AND THAT WE WOULD NOT PURSUE

INQUIRY ON THAT PUBLICATION. OTHERWISE, AS CONCERNS THE OTHER MATERIALS, WE WOULD APPRECIATE ANY INFORMATION THAT MAY HAVE BEEN DEVELOPED IN RECEIVING OFFICES CONCERNING THESE PUBLICATIONS OR THE AUTHORS OR ENTITIES WHICH ARE PRODUCING THEM, INCLUDING WHETHER SUCH MATERIAL IS BEING DISTRIBUTED WITHIN TERRORIST CIRCLES, FOR EXAMPLE, EXTREMIST HATE GROUPS.

WE NOTE THAT THIS MATERIAL HAS SOME COMMON FEATURES WITH BOMB-MAKING INSTRUCTIONS DISSEMINATED THROUGH COMPUTER BULLETIN BOARD SERVICES, AND FOR THAT REASON WE ARE ALSO QUERYING THE EUBDC.

WE ARE PROVIDING INFORMATION TO MIAMI, AS THE ADDRESS FOR ONE OF THESE PUBLICATIONS IS IN MIAMI. IN THE EVENT THAT MIAMI HAS ANY POSITIVE INFORMATION CONCERNING THE PUBLICATION OR THE COMPANY PUBLISHING AND DISTRIBUTING IT, THE RG WOULD BE INTERESTED IN RECEIVING SAME. OUR REVIEW OF MIAMI INDICES WAS NEGATIVE FOR J. FLORES PUBLICATIONS AND FOR THE TOLL-FREE NUMBER 800-472-2388.

LEGAT PARIS LOCATED REFERENCES TO LOOMPANICS UNLIMITED IN SEATTLE INDICES, AND TO DESERT PUBLICATIONS IN PHOENIX INDICES.
